

Healthy Living Expo slated May 4

BUCKHORN — The Healthy Living Expo, formerly Nifty after Fifty, will be Wednesday, May 4, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. at the Columbia Mall here.

It is free and open to the public, with a chance to win more than $1,000 in cash and prizes.

More than 50 vendors will provide a wide range of free information, health screenings, and entertainment designed for citizens over age 50. However, people of all ages are welcome to attend.

The Bloomsburg Fire Department will have food available for purchase. Entertainment will include the Berwick Middle School select chorus, string and jazz bands; two fashion shows; exercise demonstrations by the Bloomsburg YMCA; the Central Columbia High dance team; and musical selections by Emily Inman.

Special to Press Enterprise

MEMBERS of the Healthy Living Expo committee gather to promote the "Fashions From the Past" Fashion Show with area senior groups for this year's event. They are, from left, Carol Felix, office manager of ACE Hearing Center; Dessie Stuempfle, Bloomsburg Hospital Auxiliary health education chair; Kathy Martin, marketing director, Orangeville Nursing & Rehabilitation Center; Colette Wintersteen, marketing manager, Columbia Mall; and Lisa Makara, marketing and development director, Bloomsburg Health System.
